MATTAPOISETT TOWN MEETING

A total of 61 articles will be considered by Mattapoisett voters at the annual town meeting on Monday, April 6th, at Old Rochester Regional High School auditorium at 7:30 P.M.

The Fire Department is asking for a new truck to replace Engine 4, a 1949 Ford, under Article 18. The sum of $30,000.00 is wanted.

Article 21 asks for an appropriation for a new pumping station, north of the present No. 3. No amount is mentioned. The Water Commissioners are sponsors.

The Finance Committee doesn't recommend.

Article 42 seeks a vote on amendments to the present zoning by-law. At the hearing regarding these changes, it was explained that the Planning Board would like to change the Limited Industrial area to run south of and parallel to the proposed new highway, 1600 ft South and 5500 feet East. The State will take the present Railroad Avenue leading to the dump for a cloverleaf and will build a new access road and water main. This road, it was stated, would be the access to the Limited Industrial area. It was explained that the State will not permit burning at the dump, so that a new site must be found. The proposed change is to replace the old Limited Industrial area which was termed as too long and narrow to be practicable.

Articles 50, 51 and 50 are by-laws proposed by the Police Department. Article 50 asks for a $50.00 maximum fine for disorderly conduct and indecent language. Article 51 would prohibit sleeping on beaches or gathering on beaches between 10 P.M. and 6 A.M. A maximum fine of $50.00 is proposed for violators. Article 52 would make it unlawful to litter beaches and public ways. A maximum fine of $50.00 is proposed.

HOME AND TRADE SHOW AT ORRHS

Steve Charbonneau, president of the Old Rochester Regional Distributive Education Club, and Douglas Jenney, club secretary, have been named as co-chairmen of the First Annual Old Rochester Regional High School Home and Trade Show to be held on April 17 and 18 at the high school's gymnasium. Both seniors, who are enrolled in the school's new occupational training program, are embarking on careers in business management. Plans for the show include the presentation of some 60 exhibitors of products and services to be used in the home. Famous brand national manufacturers, regional distributors, local merchants and service organizations have been scheduled to participate in the Trade Show. Charbonneau and Jenney also announced that there will be no admission charge to the general public. To make the Trade Show even more exciting to Cape area residents, further plans call for the distribution of from five hundred to one thousand prizes whose retail value will be no less than one dollar. The co-chairmen also announced the appointment of their executive staff which includes the following seniors: Patricia Bettencourt, chairman of foods and services committee; Susan Galvin, chairman of personnel planning committee; Linda Jenkins, supervisor of operations; Cynthia Haskell, chairman of the prize solicitations committee; and Donald Savery, director of Advertising and Promotional Planning.

MARION LEAGUE TO TOUR STATE HOUSE

A trip to Boston to see the State Legislature in action, attend a committee hearing, talk to Rep. MacKenzie, and tour the State House is being planned by the Marion League of Women Voters for Wednesday, April 8th.

It is hoped that especially all women new to the League in the past three or four years, as well as any non-members who might be interested will take advantage of this opportunity to become better acquainted with their State government and have a good time while doing it. Please call either Mrs. Ralph Thacher, president, as 748-0490, or Mrs. David Enroth, legislative chairman, at 763-5724, for information about time and transportation.

OPERA FOR CHILDREN

On Saturday, April 4th, at 2:30 P.M., the New England Regional Opera Company will present Chanticleer, an opera for children by Samuel Barab, at Keith Junior High School in New Bedford. Dr. Richard Marshall, music director of the First Unitarian Church, is director of the company. The leading roles will be sung by Jean Marshall, soprano; Louise Cash, mezzosoprano; Luther Enstad, tenor; and Ernest Triplett, baritone, all experienced professionals. The New Bedford performance will be the fifth performance of the opera by this group. Although written for elementary school children, the opera will delight children of all ages. Admission charge will be 50 cents. Contributions are being solicited to cover the remainder of expenses.

in Hyannis. Also at Cherry's and Senior Citizens Hobby Show, New Bedford.

Mrs. Brownhill has followed the example set by her mother of always keeping busy.

Painting with oils in leisure hours in her studio, Mrs. Brownhill finds her hobby fascinating and a satisfying outlet for inherited creative talent. She will exhibit both copies and original paintings.

A large committee is planning unusual exhibitions and demonstrations for the 1970 Community Show, that has an outreach into many phases of activity in the Greater New Bedford area, and will bring together people from many age brackets with wide variety of interests and talents, who wish to let their neighbors know how they find relaxation in skillful leisure time activities.

In the commercial exhibits in the gymnasium, products shown and on sale will range from life insurance to wigs and beads.

Door prizes will be given away every hour, and the grand prize will be a clock radio.

ART CENTER CLASSES

The Marion Art Center announces Spring Term Art Classes. Since the weather will be getting nicer, Sarah Brown's Tuesday morning class will concentrate on outdoor sketching and painting. This class will begin March 31st, but there is room for students to begin Tuesday, April 7th, from 9:30 to 12:00 Noon.

After a very successful winter term, Salvatore has agreed to teach a ten-week session beginning either Wednesday, April 1st, or Thursday, April 2nd, from 7:30 to 10:00 P.M. Students may register at their first class.

On Tuesday evenings a new class in either photography or silk screen printing is being offered. Andrew Bacchus of New Bedford has agreed to teach this eight-week session. For information call the Marion Art Center (748-1035) or register at the first session: Tuesday, April 7th, at 7:30 P.M.

Yoga Classes will resume after the production of "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off", which will be performed April 8, 9, 10 and 11. Have you made reservations yet? Register for the first Yoga class on Thursday, April 17th, at 10:00 A.M., or Monday, April 20th, at 8:00 P.M. Marcia

TO THE EDITOR

The Mattapoisett Conservation Commission strongly opposes the aerial spraying for mosquitoes for the following reasons:

The contract for aerial spray is awarded to a private concern that is in no way connected with Plymouth County Mosquito Control. As a result there are no effective controls over the spraying.

The effect of the two annual sprayings is

"Stop The World..."

ART CENTER TO PRESENT MUSICAL

The Marion Art Center is proud to announce its forthcoming production of the Anthony Newley-Leslie Bricusse musical, "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off," which will be presented for four performances only, April 8, 9, 10 and 11, at the Marion Art Center.

This "new-style" musical is, to say the least, unusual in its form, and will appeal to young and old alike. It outlines the birth, life and death of its central figure, Mr. Littlechap, relying heavily on pantomime and suggested action as communication devices.

Starring in the production as Mr. Little-chap is Tom Kennedy, a member of the Tabor faculty in Marion. Dee Etta Rowe of Falmouth portrays the four women in his life. Marianne Marso and Michele Robb, both of Marion, are featured as his daughters. The son will be played alternately by Billy Marso and Billy Lowe of Marion.

The chorus includes Heather Lowe, Debbie Burrell, Faith Thompson, Jean Prescott, Peg Radley, Holley Duffey and Gail Swain.
A special guest appearance in the part of Death will be made by Rick Swain, an old Art Center favorite.

Musical director for the production is Thelma K. Ostensfeld, whose background music figured prominently in the last Art Center production, "Under Milk Wood".
Mrs. Ostensfeld is assisted by Robert Leary of Marion. Choreography is by Eunice Ashworth, also of Marion.

Directing his second Art Center production (the first being "Under Milk Wood") is Bill Tchakirides. Mr. Tchakirides is head of the Creative Dramatics program at Tabor Academy, where he has recently directed "The Importance of Being Earnest" and several smaller pieces. His theatre training and background centers around the Theatre Department of Northwestern University from which he holds two degrees.

Individual and group reservations should be made as soon as possible for this exciting and unusual production. Phone Mrs.
Robert D. Marso at 748-0306 or Mrs. John
M. Ranney, 748-1629. There is a special student discount upon request for High School and college students.

WORLD WIDE CONFERENCE OF LATTER-DAY SAINTS

Ninety-three year old Joseph Fielding Smith, tenth president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, will preside and direct his first World Wide Conference on April 4th, 5th and 6th. This event will be held at the famous 103-year-old Tabernacle of Temple Square in Salt Lake City, Utah. A special session on the 6th will give church members the opportunity to sustain the new prophet and president of the church. Such a meeting has not occurred for 19 years.

Among the speakers will be Dr. Paul H. Dunn of the First Counsel of Seventy and President of the New England Mission. Dr. Dunn directs the activities of the Church in the New England States and Maritime Provinces of Canada, of which Mattapoisett is part.

One session of this special service will be televised over WPRI, Channel 12, on Sunday, April 5th, from 11 to 12 noon. This announcement was made by Elder William Foxley of New Bedford.

CAPEWAY BABE RUTH LEAGUE ORGANIZED

The towns of Mattapoisett, Marion, Wareham and Bourne have formed a Babe Ruth Baseball League for boys who are ineligible for the Little League because they are too old, and who will not reach their 16th birthday before August 1, 1970.

There will be 2 teams each from Mattapoisett, Wareham and Bourne, with one team entered from Marion.

Before the season opens, there is a possibility of another town joining the league and rounding it out to 8 teams.

Voyage of The Manta

The last complete whaling venture from the port of New Bedford, Mass.

Sunday, August 9th - Here's hoping we can get through one Sunday without getting whale, or seeing it. Kept fore'sle up all night and a man at the wheel steering N.W. No wind. Barkatine with auxiliary engine sailed around us this morning. It looked fine. All steel. Storm came up with lots of wind, took in all sail, then put up try-sail. Wind is now dying down. Did not last long. Wind breezed up about 4:30 P.M. Fair breeze blowing now. But haven't put on anymore sail. I spent the longest 2 hours of my life in the masthead this P.M. Perfect calm, not a thing to look at and I can't think or dream anymore. Rain.

Monday, August 10th - Thunderstorm last night. Lots of rain. The calm has broken. We have a S.W. wind. All we have up are the two trysails. Wind dying out. Still taking in sail at night. Haven't seen whale for two days. Thank God. Was told to-day that we have started for home this morning and will get there for Sunday if we keep going and don't stop for whale. This was told me by one of the officers who knows how I yearn for home. He asked me not to tell anyone else because he wasn't supposed to know himself.

Tuesday, August 11th - Still under shortened sail. But we started cleaning up this morning. Opened up the lye barrel and pumped fresh water from the Booby Hatch to wash down with. Everybody smiling now. I hope we get in before Sunday. But we are going very slow. Still looking for whale. One of the mates told me I could expect to eat breakfast at home Sunday. Just got through cleaning ship. Every thing spic and span. Wouldn't believe it could be made so clean without painting. Lopes told the 4th mate that as soon as we cleaned up he would put up all sail, but he hasn't made a move yet. Cleaned our part of ship with stinking lye and the quarter deck with soap. Pestered with flies. Bite like the dickens and draws blood. Lots worse than mosquitoes.

Wednesday, August 12th - Got our main'sle up and going right along. Only one mate in masthead. After breakfast, no mastheads, took all the gear out of boats and stowed it away, took in staging and took down straps. NO MORE WHALE ABSOLUTELY. Wind dying down. Almost calm. Can you beat it? I feel kind of afraid of the city with all its noise and strife, worries of rent, food and clothing, etc. Here it's so peaceful and quiet (when we haven't got whale). Three months and a half and all we've seen is whales and water and a steamer in the distance occasionally. Won't I be glad to get away from this crowd. All we've got to do now is to wait. I've been looking through the magazines at the hotel ads and they have a strong appeal to me. I think that's going to be my vocation alright. Ever since I was ten years of age I've wondered what I would do for a living, what trade or profession I wanted to follow. I've made up my mind at last. I've worked at a good many different jobs and positions and the hotel game paid me best and I like it better than anything else.

Club will be held this Thursday, April 2nd, at 8:00 P.M. in the school cafeteria.
